

Finding Ginny

Book Club Discussion Guide

Prepared for Book Clubs | JenDodrillWrites

Welcome to the Finding Ginny Book Club Discussion

I'm so glad you've chosen Finding Ginny for your book club! This story explores family, faith, forgiveness, and the struggles and hope that come with addiction and healing.

Inside this guide, you'll find questions to spark meaningful conversations, encourage reflection, and connect the themes of the novel to your own life experiences. Some questions are thoughtful and deep, while others are lighthearted and fun—perfect for balancing discussion with laughter.

Take your time with the questions. Let the conversation flow naturally. And most of all, enjoy the journey of walking alongside Kat, Becky, Ginny, and the rest of the characters as you share your own insights and stories together.

✨ Happy reading & happy discussing!

Characters & Perspectives

1. The story is told through Kat's voice. How did hearing from her point of view shape your understanding of the story? What did Kat reveal about herself that surprised you most, and what questions about her still remain for you as a reader?
2. Which character drew you in the most, and why? Did you find yourself empathizing with one of them more strongly than the others? In what ways did you see parts of yourself—or people you know—reflected in their struggles and growth?
3. How did your perception of Becky change from the beginning of the novel to the end? What specific moments or revelations shaped that shift? Did your feelings toward her mirror Kat's, or were they different?
4. If you could sit down with Ginny for one conversation, what would you ask her? Why is that the question you'd want answered, and how do you think her response might change the way you understand her journey?

Addiction & Real-World Reflections

1. Before reading this book, what assumptions or beliefs did you hold about addiction? Did the story affirm, challenge, or complicate those ideas?
2. After finishing the novel, how has your view of addiction—and the way it impacts both individuals and families—changed? What new insights or questions has the story left you with?

Faith, Healing & Hope

1. Kat's faith plays a role in her journey toward healing. How did her beliefs shape her choices, her resilience, and her ability to find hope again? Did her faith journey feel realistic and inspiring to you?
2. Which moment or passage in Finding Ginny struck the deepest chord with you? Why do you think it stood out—because of your own experiences, your relationships, or your perspective on life?

Themes & Endings

1. What themes stood out most strongly for you in the story—family, forgiveness, faith, resilience, or something else? How did those themes connect to one another, and what larger message do you think the author wanted to convey?
2. How did the ending align with—or differ from—what you expected? Were you satisfied with where the characters ended up? If you could rewrite the ending, what would you change, and why?

Just for Fun

1. If Finding Ginny were turned into a movie or TV series, which actors would you cast as Kat, Becky, and Ginny?
2. Which scene do you think would look most powerful or emotional on screen—and why?
3. If you could sit down for a meal with one character, who would it be, and what would you want to talk about?
4. What song or type of music do you think would capture the heart of this story?
5. Which setting in the novel felt the most vivid or inviting to you? If you could step into one place from the book for a day, where would it be?
6. If you had to give the characters “yearbook-style” awards (e.g., Most Likely to Surprise You, Most Stubborn, Most Hopeful), who would win what?
7. If your book club had to serve a snack or meal inspired by Finding Ginny, what would it be?

Thank you for reading &
discussing Finding Ginny!
May your conversations be filled with insight, laughter, and connection.
